

Bootees Reaching
Short Skirt Appear
At Atlantic City

Style Dictators in Session at Show Predict Days of Abbreviated Garb for Women Are Numbered

Special Dispatch to The Tribune ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 27.—Tons of turkeys went to make a notable seashore holiday for thousands of visitors from New York and other cities here for Thanksgiving. All the hotels served old-fashioned turkey dinners, and hundreds of family parties celebrated at the shore rather than face the tribulations of home preparation. Along with the dinners there were dances and other affairs on the pier, and in the beach front hotels, special theatrical attractions in the Boardwalk playhouses and a number of outdoor entertainments, including golf matches at Northfield and Seaside.

Winter styles have been much in evidence since the arrival of the Thanksgiving crowd. A novelty in footwear worn by New York girls is high bootees of patent leather which reach close to the hem of the short skirts in vogue.
Style dictators here this week to attend the meeting of the Associated Dress Industries at the Breakers, declare the days of the short skirt fad are numbered and that the newest styles for 1921 will have longer skirts though not much more voluminous.

A feature of the holiday entertainment was the formal opening of the new and luxurious swimming pool at the Ambassador, which had its first aquatic meeting to display the abilities of the recently returned American Olympic stars. In the party of swimming and diving champions brought here by Miss Charlotte Epstein, who trained the team for the Olympic games, were Miss Ethelinda Bleitrey, Miss Alice Higgins, Miss Charlotte Boyle, Miss Helen Wainwright, Miss Helen Meany and Miss Alice Lord. Society girls of the hotel colony who are interested in swimming took part in the reception committee, which entertained the Olympic experts during their visit.

Harry Latz, of the Almac, heads a committee which took action this week to raise funds for the construction of a stadium large enough for offering to the next world's Olympic event. City officials and other prominent hotel men are among the members of the committee.

John C. Coyle headed a delegation of 100 executives and officials of the Pennsylvania Mutual Life Insurance Company which came to the Jackson Hotel for an outing this week.

Many prominent folk from New York and other sections were in the holiday throng. General George H. Harries arrived at the Traymore early in the week, as did Mrs. Mary E. T. Chapin and Miss Margaret Berry, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Gales, Mrs. C.
G. Strong and Miss Helen McCloskey arrived at the Ambassador from New York.

Miss Phyllis Knowles, of New York, is visiting Mrs. John Shea, of New Rochelle, at the Marlborough-Blenheim.
Miss Van Wyck, of Brooklyn, is with Mrs. G. W. Helms at the Marlborough-Blenheim.
